"Celebrating the Everyday Adventure of Faith"

Big Ideas Start Small!

Paper Hearts

Meet Matt Anderson. His first card-making venture, at four years old, involved cutting out tiny paper hearts as valentines for the ants on the front porch. The hearts were tiny, but the idea was big: making others feel special, putting a smile on their face and encouraging them to open their hearts to God's love.

Prayerful Hands

DaySpring shares Matt's mission of celebrating the everyday adventure of faith. The messages here bring heaven a little closer to home ... to the day-to-day challenges we all experience. They're heartwarming and hopeful. DaySpring wants to bring Heaven's Unofficial Greetings to as many people as possible — a testimony to the power of paper hearts and prayers.

#32191

Happy Birthday, beautiful. I CORINTHIANS 13

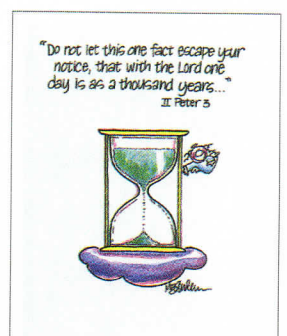

It's time to close the chapter on yet another year

Across its time-worn pages was written a simple tale of humble living, a tale of love, of tears, of joys, of a few broken diets, an endearing saga that could perhaps be best summed up with these words...

#32192

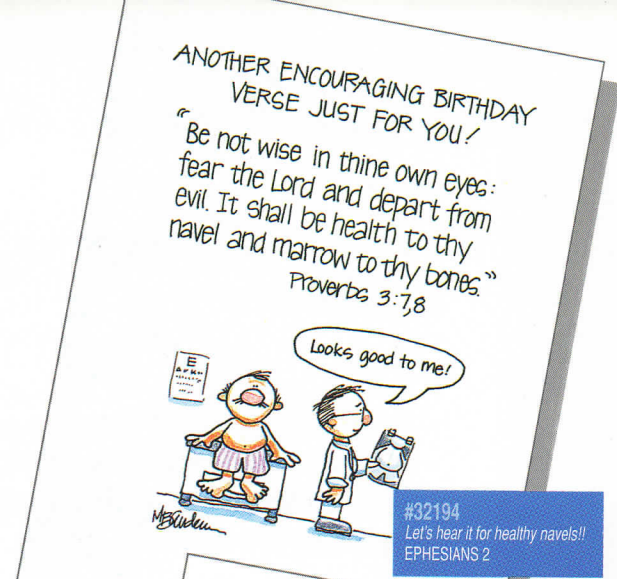

"You made it!" Let's celebrate!! Happy Birthday ECCLESIASTES 3

"Do not let this one fact escape your notice, that with the Lord one day is as a thousand years..." II Peter 3
