Sprint Products Group introduces

Protegé Voice™——

voicemail as easy as child's play.

It's simple to install and easy to use. Sprint Products Group introduces ProtegéVoice — voicemail designed exclusively for the Protegé® digital hybrid key system.

The design is tightly integrated, to simplify your life. Installation requires very little time and even less equipment. We eliminated the need for a costly analog interface that often slows call processing. Even the compact size is efficient, which frees up valuable storage space.

Use the 4-port ProtegéVoice unit with any CTX, MTX or LTX system. Or, try the 12-port ProtegéVoice board with any MTX or LTX system. You can order system packages now, at the low introductory prices outlined below. Whatever you choose, your customers will enjoy many powerful advantages.

Quick Call Processing

ProtegéVoice was made for the Protegé system, so it's more efficient. Since there are no multiple signal conversions, calls get processed faster.

Selective Call Answer

ProtegéVoice can announce callers and give users the option to pick up or forward to voicemail. In addition, users can listen to messages as they are being recorded and pick up callers with the touch of a button.

Call Recording

Catch every detail. Why be distracted by note-taking during important business calls? Users can simply push a button to record any conversation into their personal mailbox.

Call Notification

Minimize phone tag. ProtegéVoice can use call paging to alert users to incoming calls…before the calls are transferred to extensions or voicemail…and permit users to pick up calls from any extension.

More Valuable Features

ProtegéVoice works hard to make everyone's life easy. It offers many valuable features, from auto attendant to mailbox linking…all designed to simplify and streamline any user's day.
